What we offer:

Specialized training, will provide you with advanced skills in youth work, group management and social planning.

Innovative Project, to contribute to and work on an innovative project that aims to counter the social (self-)isolation of young foreign mothers by fostering their social inclusion, in a gradual and lasting way.

Networking and Professional Growth, collaborate with other professionals in the field, expand your network, and access ongoing resources and support.

Supporting the non-formal educational activities, some local youth workers will be selected to participate in the international training.

Requirements:

Prior experience in social-territorial work, outreach, service orientation, leadership, self efficacy or strong interest in pursuing this career.

Willingness to participate in the training and the project with commitment and dedication.

Excellent communication and teamwork skills.

Passion for innovation and personal and professional growth.

How to apply:

To express your interest, send your application to info@euromamme.it for application. The application must include:

A motivation letter explaining why you are interested in this training and project.

An up-to-date curriculum vitae.

Any relevant references or experiences.
